

On Saturday 31 May a small delegation of Bedfordshire Light Blues attended an Emergency Meeting of Lodge Sine Nomine, No. 10000 at Freemasons' Hall, London for the first-ever Light Blues Communication – a historic milestone in our 307-year history!. The event saw Provinces being represented from all over the UK and resulted in over 2,000 brethren being present. The meeting was held in the Grand Temple and was opened in the First Degree by the Officers of Sine Nomine Lodge No 10000. It was then followed by a procession of the Pro Grand Master, Provincial and District Grand Masters with Active Grand Officers.

The Pro Grand Master took the Master's Chair for the business of the meeting: a series of short presentations from Light Blues Clubs; and a presentation on Royal Arch Masonry. After the meeting was over, the brethren retired to their allocated rooms to de-robe and meet for light refreshments. This was a great opportunity to mingle and speak to brethren from different Provinces and make new connections.

Following the short refreshment break, some of the brethren returned to the Grand Temple where they were privileged to watch a live recording of The Craftcast podcast.

This was a fantastic opportunity to visit the unique Masonic Hall and experience the splendour and theatre of a full Grand Temple and to be able to explore the building and enjoy the social aspects of Freemasonry.

Our hosts were exemplary in their knowledge of the history of the building, the perfect hosts and made us feel extremely welcome.

Finally, I would like to thank WBro Kyle Whitbread for organising the Bedfordshire Light Blues contingent to this event – fantastically done, no stone left unturned and a thoroughly enjoyable and memorable day.
